MAINLAND
UNIVERSITIES
COLLABORATE TO NURTURE NURSING TALENT

The Macau Polytechnic Institute and the Medical Department of the Peking University inked a collaboration agreement on June 8 to co-cultivate nursing talents. The institutes also launched their joint Nursing College at Peking University on the same day. Secretary for Social Affairs and Culture Ao leong U, who attended the opening ceremony, stated that the academic partnership would help nurture local nursing talents to meet the city's demand for varied medical services.
